

ThinkForward Senior Fundraising Officer

Job information pack

About ThinkForward

ThinkForward exists to support young people to create better and brighter futures. We want them to be able to identify, realise and shape their aspirations and be ready to make a successful transition into work.

Young people experiencing barriers such as challenging relationships, living in low-income households, or growing up in areas with a lack of access to opportunities can be confronted with hurdles. Without the right support, these barriers can lead to a high risk of unemployment and long-term effects on career and life chances.

There are more than 900,000 16-24-year-olds in the UK who are not at school or college, or don't have a job or training place. Our ambition is to prevent young people becoming one of these statistics.

In 2025, we will be supporting more than 1,500 young people.

Our values

Our values are more than words; they are the principles that guide our actions and decisions every day. By embodying these values, we create a positive and empowering environment for ourselves, our colleagues, and the young people we serve.

Our principles

ThinkForward is committed to safeguarding and promoting the welfare of children, young people, and vulnerable adults and expects all staff and post holders to share this commitment.

ThinkForward is committed to equality of opportunity for all staff and applications from individuals are encouraged regardless of age, disability, sex, gender identity, sexual orientation, pregnancy and maternity, race, religion or belief and marriage and civil partnerships.

As a registered Disability Confident employer, ThinkForward has an accessible recruitment process. We offer interviews to all applicants who meet the job requirements and who declare themselves as having a disability. If you need support, such as materials in larger print, dyslexic-friendly fonts or adjustments for the interview, please contact jobs@thinkforward.org.uk and we will ensure you have what you require to successfully complete this process.

About our programmes

The FutureMe programme provides five years of personalised coaching and employability activities to get young people ready for the world of work. Coaches build trusted relationships, supporting young people to take control, find solutions to challenges, develop skills and create a positive vision for their future.

Specialised ready for work activities support young people to get familiar with the workplace, become inspired and identify a pathway to their chosen career. We run this programme in 15 schools in North and East London, Nottingham and Kent.

About our programmes

The Making Strides programme operates in London, working with young adults who have learning disabilities and/or autism with the aim of supporting them into sustainable paid employment.

Coaches provide long-term support to prepare young people for sustainable paid employment. Young people take part in insight visits, work placements and business mentoring to build their experience and develop skills and capabilities. We also work closely with parents to engage them in the opportunities and benefits of the programme.

About our programmes

The Future Leaders programme works with young Black men and young Black and Asian women that are at risk of exclusion or have been excluded from mainstream school.

In London, young Black students are more likely to be excluded from school than white British students and young Black men experience disproportionately high unemployment rates.

To tackle these issues, Future Leaders supports Black students in alternative provisions and schools to make a successful transition into a post-16 destination, overcome the barriers they may face such as a lack of networks, social capital and soft skills, and prepare them to be ready to find a fulfilling career.

About the role

The Senior Fundraising Officer role is an excellent opportunity for an ambitious team player to join our Development team and help expand the reach and impact of our coaching programmes for young people.

We are looking for someone with experience working in a fundraising team or with transferable skills from marketing, customer engagement, sales or another relationship-focused setting. The ideal candidate will be enthusiastic about building supporter relationships and keen to develop their fundraising career within a team that places coaching and personal development at its core.

As Senior Fundraising Officer, you will play a central role in delivering our campaigns and public fundraising activity, from individual giving appeals and matched giving campaigns such as the Big Give and Champions for Children, to challenge events like the London Marathon. You will help create great supporter experiences, ensuring excellent care while keeping our CRM (Salesforce) accurate and up to date.

You will work closely with colleagues across the Business Partnerships, Delivery, Impact and Youth Participation teams to gather stories, data and insights that bring our work to life for supporters. You'll be part of a supportive and ambitious team culture that values creativity, personal development and collaboration.

The successful candidate will be highly organised, comfortable with healthy pressure and motivated by the impact their work will have on young people's lives.

If this sounds like your kind of role, we want to hear from you!
